At 4:30 of clock yesterday morning while the stement Glide in charge, of Capt. Hensel, was on her way up the Skagu river, and some three or four miles above Mount Vernon, the pushangers, some five or six, in the forward cable, heard a foud noise and cry for help in the cold's galley, a small room about four feet wide, ettated between the fore and after cabins. They tried to open the door, but could not as it was fastened. They burst it to, when our rushed the cook, his clothing in flames. He made for the stairway, went down to the boller-deck, and rushed at toward the lengthes, crying for help. The engineer ran back to his rusou, procured a blanket, and threw it around the blazing man, and succeeded in ismothering the flames. He then turned the hole on blur, and deluged him with water. This was but the work of a minute, during which the galley way in flames, and the fire spreading impidig. The douker segine was set to work, and the hose included the colline of the partition and was well under way in the fore cabin. Ten minutes sharp work with the hose subdued it. How the fire started no one is able to tell. It is supposed that the cook had undertaken to light a fire in the stove with coal oil, and an explosion followed, satting his clothes on fire. The man was a new band on the boar, having just been hired. The former cook had left the day before, and this man was precented to take his place. He was brought to this city and taken to a hotel, whence he will be taken to the Marine hospital at Port Townsend. His right arm and his lower itmbs were sarribly burned. No one is able to tell his name or find out anything definite as to how the accodent happened. There is no abatement in the terrible volume of water, and the river is now within twelve or eighteen inches of the highest point ou record. To-day word was is eigeraphed that the dam at Post Falls, some twenty-five miles up the river had gives way, but up to the hour of tolegraphing the report lacks confirmation. There are some $2,000,000 feet of logs at this point and should these be liberated the result would be nothing short of a calcult to Spokane Falls. To-day all rebicular traffic was ensured on the Post sirect bridge, the piera of which are now entirely submerged by the rushing fortent. This meaning one of the banto in the raircaal bridge at Trent was washed out. Trains are 1 uning very irregularly. WHERE TO DUMP GARRAGE.

SAN FLANCISCO, June 3.—The question of where to dump the garbage of the city has grown to be an embarrassing one with the harbor commissioners as well as all persons interested in the welfare of the city. At a meeting of the commissioners pesterday several propositions for dumping garbage were proposed and considered. The Scavengers' Protective Union naked permission to courve garbage on barges into deep water and there tump it. The patient of the city in the control of the supervisors and health bad forbidden the dumping of garbage within the city limits after a certain sate, and that it was necessary that the board of harbor commissioners should at once take the matter in hand and designate points at which dumping might be done without fear of arrest. After a long discussion a metion was adopted by the board denying the petition. In response to questions by comes! for the union whether garbage could be dumped on low-lying lands bordering on the bary, it seemed to be the general epinion of the board that the might be parmitted, but no action was taken in the matter.

THE EATING HOUSE AT SISSONS.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 3.—The sating house at Sissons, on the California and Oregon road, is to be completed as soon as possible. A temporary eating house will be used until this one is completed. It is the intention to bave trains leaving this city in the evening for Pertland slop there for broakfast, while trains coming down from Portland will stop there for supper, General Passenger agent Goodman says that this arrangement will go into effect as soon as the bottel is put up. Mr. Goodman is reported to have said that next year the company intends to build a summer resort, or hotel, on a large scale. It is to be somewhat on the same plan as bel Monte, but not quite so extensive. It will stand facing the west side of Mount Shasts, in the immediate vicinity of the railroad track. A large plat of land in that delightful vale, called Strawberty valley, has already been sejected as the site for the new building.

THE SUSPENSION OF SECTION FOUR.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 3.—General Froight Agent Gray of the Southern Pacific returned here yesterday from Chicago, whither he had gone to uttend a meeting of railroad representatives. He says: "The general opinion among railroad representatives at the conference was that the temporary suspension of the lang and short hand clause will not be confined by this interstate commission at the expiration of the seventy-five days. This will force the railroads to full back upon the court for relief. There they will be expected to prove that their intermediate rates are resonable, and to show that tow rates on long hands are an absolute necessity for the preservation of badness and to meet outside competition. A great many were of this opinion, and further that the courts will apply the common law in interpreting the interstate late. taking the steamer.

Hong DI, THE MURDERIER.

Colusa, June 3.—Hong Di was examined this morning hefore Justice Leining, with closed doors. An immense crowd gathered around the court house, expecting to gain admittance, but no one was allowed inside except those conjected. The prisoner, through his attorney, Reardon, waived examination, but the district attorney refused to consent. It is said hat defendant moved for dismissal on the ground that the examination was not held within six days of his capture, and that the court had no jurisdiction in the case, but the motion was dented. Prisoner was remanded to jail without ball.

NO CLUE TO THE TRAIN ROBBERS.

SAN FIRANCISCO, June 3.—As yet no clue has been discovered of the men who robbed the mail thain at Punitanc, A. T., on April 27 last, For the past month detectives of Weils, Fargo & Co. a express have been scouring that region, in hope of finding the robbers, but as yet the search has been fulfile. Special Officer Hume, who has just returned from that country, says that though some good has been done in explading talse theories that had obtained currency, their officers are as much in the dark as when they first started on the search.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 3.—Recent examination of the books of the Safe Deposit Company, of this city, it is stated, has revealed an apparent shorting in the accounts of fenn. C. S. The Salmon Catch.

THE SALMON CATCH.

A San Franciscan's Opinion of the General Outlook.

Outlook.

San Francisco, June 3.—One here who makes the salmon industry a study has given his views as follows: The Sinstaw river salmon pack, which will probably be about 7000 cases, has been sold to an English company on private terme, said however to be $1 173 a case. This is regarded as a good price, as the brand is new and the pack unknown. The largue river salmen pack will be about the same as last year, 10,000 cases.

There is no full report from the Columbia river canners, but the pack is estimated by dealers here to be equal in extent to that of last season. The run is a fair one, and the reported cafet to the beat is a good average, ten to twelve fish a day. Just how many boats are in the husiness it is difficult to aveariain. It is known that there has been difficulty in getting fishermen to man boats, but a good many have gone from the Sacramento valley, and others have been obtained from various sources.

In the Sacramento there is no change in the situation, as nearly as can be ascartained. The pack there for April and May will not exceed $560 cases. Canners who have still a few grains of hepe, look forward to a good run in July, although there is really nothing on which to base a confident expectation.

NEWS TREMS FROM JACKSONVILLE.

JACKSONVILLE, June 3.—Another "hung jury" is the result of the third trial of Andrew Hemin for pape. They have now been out fifty-six hours with no prospect of an agreement. In the first two aggregate juries twenty stood for conviction and four for acquittel. It is hoped the prosecution will stay with the case and justice can be had.

DIFOGRANT DECISION IN AN EJECTMENT CASE.

SALT LANK, June 3.—An ejectment case involving the title of the Central Panick Railroad Company to lands granted by congress terminated yesterday in court at Ogien in favor of the company. The judge charged that acts of congress were valid, and under them legal title passed to the grantee, upon the filing of a map of definite location. This is the first judicial ultrance in Ulah in this question, and will doubtless do much toward giving peace to evenes of land originally granted to the company.

The tenants only dealeted from petting the balliffs when the troops literatened to fire. The balliffs demolished the wall and entered the house, but were repulsed, bleeding. The eviction was only effected after a struggle of two hours and a half. The male defencers of the house were arrested. A meeting of tenants was afterwards field, at which Michael Davitt repeated the advice he gave them yesterday, to resist eviction by every means, and defied the government to arrest him.

THE CASE OF THE SCHOONER DOUGHTY.

HALD'AX, N. S., June 3.—In the admiralty court to-dny the case of the American schooner Fila M. Doughty, which was selzed by the deminion authorities sometime ago for violating the fisheries law, was called for. Capt Doughty testified that he bought a few barrels of batt, which was offered him in St. Aune's bay, but had no intention of using it within the three-mile limit. He did not remain in port voluctarily, but was unable to get away on account of ice. He had not been warned against buying bait.

THE FISHERIES COMPLICATIONS,
New YORK, June 3.—A special from Ottawa to the Tribune saje: The government regret complications which have arisen out of a misunderstanding over the fisheries and have come to the conclusion to recommend that a committee be appointed to meet a committee of the United States government and debate the whole question with a view to arranging a treaty on terms similar to those contained in the treaty of Washington.

THE OPERA COMIQUE HORROR.

PARIS, June 3.—La Prance says: Police authorities are keeping from the public the actual number of dealis resulting from the Opera comique fire. Many bodies, it says, have been taken from the ruins at various times and removed to the morgou unknown to the people. La Trance éstimates the real number of lives jet by the fire at over 200. Madame Blondel, a lady who was in the theater when the fire broke out, has just died from the offects of nervous flight experienced in her escape from the burning building.

THE TROOPS IN THE SOUDAN.

ROME, June 3.—In the chamber of deputies to day the minister of war, in the course of a delate on the proposal to grant 7,000,000 lire for expenses of the troops in Arlea, stated that the government was detarmined to retain pussession of Massowah. The cabinet considered it necessary to vindicate the preside of the army. The chamber approved the grant.

ROME, June S.—The pope has finally decided that Cardinal Dirende chall represent the Vatican during the queen's jubice celebration in London.

THE ROTHSCHILDS FORNISH MONEY.

So. Petersburg, June 3.—The Moscow Gazatte announces that secret negotiating has been going on between the Russian ministry of inance and the syndicate of European bankers, headed by the Rothschilds, and have resulted in an agreement for the conversion of the Russian credit foncier mutual fives into securities bearing 4½ per cent. This, says the Gazatte, is a prelude to a similar conversion of all the Russian debt. Rethectifus for ten years past have steadly refused to enter into any dealings with the Russian government. The Gazatta is jubilant over the result of the negotiations.

CHIEFANIC IN THE CATHEDRAL.
CHIMIAHUA, Mex., June 2.—Great consternation prevails in the city on account of the panic Wednesder in the cuthedral, in which three children and two women were killed, and skry persons injured. That such a calamity could occur is abcounding, as the cathedral is a massive stone structure with three broad exits and no chains or beaches to impede egress. The building is absolutely fireproof and the fire was so insignificant that had the immates not took their presence of mind they could all have made. their presence of mind they could all have made

AN ABSURD DECISION.

AN ABSURD DECISION.

To the Editor of The Oregonian:
I notice in this morning's Oregonian that one Stewart was tried and acquitted on a charge of vagrancy, and on his complaint his wife was convicted of vagrancy before B. B. Tuttle, justice of the pence. Now, not being much of a lawyer myself, it sounds stronge how a man not heing a vagrant, his wife can be one. Under what law does a woman have to have an occupation, lawful or otherwise? Under the common law, if she committed a crime in the presence of her husband, the presumption was that she did it by his direction, and, in the name of common store, how can she be a vagrant and her husband not one, or have we a Daniel come to histories?

her husband notone, or nave to indement to judgment? Evidently the court has allowed the deputy district attorney to lead him to no absert position. May be woman, not being a voter, has not the equity our of that court OBSERVER.

NO CC-HONOR OF CAUSES,

Gov. Salemon is taken to task by the San too, Shomon is taken to task by the San Francisco Learnier because he declines on Memorial day to confuse the idea of the blue and gray by treating with equal honor those who upled the lag and those who so bravely tried to usee it. The airs that blow from the South are full of fraterinal words from those who were once armed enemies but while we would not once armed enemies, but while we would not question captionally the sincerity of these uter-ances we agree with Gov. Salomon that they are miserably perverted from their best purpose and office for good by these who do not yet perceive that the great civil continct was a war of ideas Grant and Lee were both gallant soldiers, but they were not both right a man may die as herolcally for error as for truth, but the man who dies for truth has fine moral sense as well as munhood. morality or a tes, of truth And this is just what Gov Salomon means to say, that both sides were not right in the great fight and no maily man on either side wants to mingle the blue and gray as if the war was nothing but a strong of the moral of the side with no more principle at the side with no more principle at the side war was nothing but a size of the side with no more principle at the side war to side with the side with the side war. stake than two brave boys who dared each other to knock a chip off the shoulder and f ught like prize-fighters about this city cause

The manly way to treat this great quarrel la The many way to treat tors great quarter or not the centimental way. To Southern valor we all take off our bats, a braver fight was never made in history. But to take off your hat to a man's pluck is one thing, to take off your hat to his principle is quite another. Sone or Edwards once said in debate. Edmunds once said in debate.

Edmunds once and in denate.

I think that the rebellion being over, and over for good, it is better to preserve some everlasting monument that there was a right side and a wrong side to it. There cannot be two right sides to such a question, and, as the government turned on to have the allest side. I think it before that this perbe on the right side, I think it better that this per-petual statute book should hold some unextin gui-bed memorial that we know the difference be-were one side and the other

It is a curious fact that the ablest answer to Sanator Edmende's logic was made by a radical republican soldier, Col John D Washburn, of Worcester, Mass. Col Washburn lost two brothers in battle for the Union, and as a notable representative of the sorrows and sacrificas of the war, his eloquent plea for complete efface-ment of all existing disabilities consequent upon rebellion excited national attention. Col. Washrenement extract national attention. Col. Wash-burn argued that while the original imposition of these disabilities was both just and wise, they were no longer needed for detense and protec-tion, that to repeal them was no. a confession of error it was only saying that lapse of time of error it was only saying mat mose or time and change of circumstances, a new position substituted for the old, enables us to dispense with further guarantees, that is all. Col Wash-burn decied that we needed to fortify ourselves by examples of the past, and deciared that it was contrary to the practice of civilized publicant to ontrary to the practice of civilized nations to perpetuate the memories of civil wars. More than half the men who organized the rebellion are dead, and half the remainder are faltering with Jeff Davis under the infimities of age Col. Washburn among other things said

Do you want a lasting monament that the North was right and the bouth wrong, a monumental proof that treason is odious, and on grounds like these will you maintain disability statutes But statutes are not permanent monuments. The statutes are not permanent monuments. The breath of an ephomeral party majority blows upon them and they vanish into empty air. A united country, which by its power in union trumphs over every foe illustrates alike the odicuments and hopplessness of trencouable plots against it, is the most lasting and noble monument the more noble and convincing monument and proof, in proportion as it justly boasts itself strong pnough to grant to all its st bjects an a mal standing before the law. This argument is conclusive educing, save in one respect it does not entirely answer to many one respect it does not entirely enough, says in minds the object on of Senator Edmonds, who thushe it yet too soon to blot out from the statnie book all memorials of the war. Senator Ed-munds knows perfectly well that these disabilities no longer have any practical effect in ex-cluding from the army persons who would oth-ownise enter it. The vast majority of the living Confiderate soldiers are 45 rears of age to-day, so that in any event the army would not be a natural opening for an ex Confederate of ma-ture Pears, but Senator Edmunds stated the situation exactly when he said that the pretention of these disabilities was not to the South a practical, but a sentimental grievance, since with the repeal of the disabilities there could be no more candidates for appointments in the army among the ex-Confederates than there are day.

The renator confessed that there was no lon-The remator confessed that there was no longer reason to fear that the repeal of disabilities would posson the army with an infusion of normous blood, but this cold-blooded man insisted that there was a sentimental value to the nation in the retention of these disabilities upon the statute books. Senator Edmonds argued that the nutional statute book should contain some record of the history of the rebellion and its punishment, and that was should beautiful the ent, and that we should have this statte stand as long as the nation The senator further reasoned that while we owe the rebel-lion (bristlan justice and mercy, we would not act meekly if we purged the statute book of all n of the war as completely as we we expunged from our school books all thell erature of our later day patriotism. CONTRACTS IN OLD AGE.

The operators spirit manifested by John Bright on the Irish question is in marked con-trast with the days of his manly prime. In 1850 Bright made a powerful speech against a coer ction bill he was a conspicuous friend and ad-mirer of John Dillon, the elder, the father of the present able leutenant of Parnell in the conduct of the home rule plan of campaign. The clost Dillon was among the Irish exites of 1833, but afterward returned from America under an act of amnests, and when Dillon died Bright spoke in elequent praise of his efforts for home rule. The Chapman Mr. Printly exitted to rule. The change in Mr. Bright's attitude to-ward Ireland is doubtless due to the fact that he ward Ireland is doubtless due to the fact that he has suffered much from it health during his long career, while Gladstone has hardly known a sick hour. Mr Bright, a good many years ago, was forced to retire from public life on account of ill health, and it was then believed that his withdrawal from political agitation was permanent but he re-entered parliament in 185° For ten years past the great orator's health has been so honelessly broken that he deep act that he so hopelessly broken that he does not trust himself to attempt the delivery of a great cration, such as he attered during our civil war Gladstone, on the other hand, is equal to the delivery of the deliver ery of a great speech with the vigor and reso-nance of bis middle life. Bright 1s, we believe, but a year older than Gladstone, but the latter's perfect health makes him an optimist in his view of the Irish situation, while Rright's feeble, suffering condition, makes him take the gloomy, pessimistic view Hut Mr. Bright, even in his best days, was never as radical a thinker as Conden, although Bright's more passionate mastery of the oratory of indignation made superficial listeners think him more radical than Cobden. Cobden was a very bold thinker and daring reformer, but he never talked angrily any more than our own Garrison, but Bright was always more conservative, save in certain pet measures he favored than either Gladstone or Cobden. Gladstone did not extra radically between the content of the cont did not start a maircal thinker like Coden, but ne made up favorably in his middle years for the halling laggard tory pace of his youth. He has never taken any backward step since 1846, when he helped Sir Hobert Peel repeal the corn law, and suce that day Gladstone has been the only Laglish minister who has dared to agree with John Ruskin when he said, "I believe that in all year distance of the state." great questions of principle, and in all details of administration of law Ireland has been usually right and we wrong, sometimes in misunder-standing Ireland, sometimes in resolute iniquity to Ireland." Gladstone has risen to the level of Ruskin's liberality, while Bright aged, infirm, sick and sorrewful, rails at the best work of bis prime when he was not ashamed "to bitch his wagen to a star" that glittered with the light of Christian progress in politics.

A THEOLOGICAL DISPUTE

Next October, at the meeting of the Ameri-Next October, at the meeting of the American board of commissioners for foreign missions, at Springfield, Mass., the subject of the Andorer "New Departure" will come up in a still more embarrassing form than it saumed at the Des Meines meeting last year, whom there was a dispute which attracted general attention throughout the religious world over the ques-tion whether those persons who had never had opportunity to know Christ would be hopelessly opportunity to know currist would be nopelessly and irrevocably lost, or whether there might not be for such a state of probation after death On this question the Andover theologians had the affirmative, and those of the old school resolutely deathed.

It is a speculative doctrine of theology, and there is no means of deciding the controversy over it One party judged will outvote the other, but that will settle nothing Preparation other, but that will settle nothing Preparation for the controversy grows warm, and the school of the "new theology" has issued a warning cry, in circular form, declaring in tones of alarm that the "old theology" people are preparing to "pack" the convention for their defeat, and calling on them to "raily" for the defense of their cause and faith Members of the old school slow are issuing appeals against the innovators, and warning the church that it cannot afford to permit this assumd in point the old orthodox and comfortable dectrine of universal and everlasting damuation to lines who die without Christ, whether they ever had a chance to know him or not.

ever had a chance to know him or not.

This, in its present form, is a conflict between rival sects of Congregationalism. Meanume we join a contemporary in urging every person interested in such controversies, Congregationalists and others, to read and ponder an article by Canon Freemantle, republished from the London Fortunghtly Review in the June issue of the Popular Science Modify, under the title of "Theology Under Changed Conditions"

It is claimed by the Prohibition Star that THE ORFGONIAN did not give a full verbatim re-port of Dr. Herrick Johnson's address in be-half of prohibition last Saturday evening, and it says that by this omission it lost the opportu-nity to get the address for its own columns. We nity to get the address for its own columns. We are sorry that paper is disappointed. But it may get a closer and better discourse on the same subject by the same author in an article written subject by the same author in an article written by bim some months ago for a leading magazine and republished in full shortly afterwards by The Origonian. In that article Dr. Johnson placed his argument on precisely the same ground traversed in his discourse here on Saturday night, and it was much more compact in statement and power. His recent address here was not, in fact, in good form for a verbatim re port, and not nearly equal in force to the written argument referred to A verbatim report was impracticable, and Thi Unegonian gave a sum mark

THE COUR D'ALENE MINES. NUMBER V.

WARDHER V.

WARDHER, Idaho, 28th of May.

The mines, or as they are called here, the properties of the Central Alene district, are not of the sort known as poor men's mines. That is, capital is required for their development. It takes money, and a great deal of it, for labor, machinery and transportation before the wealth in the mountains can be turned to wealth in the pocket. The placers of the Murray district alone yield a cash return to individual miners, and even these ile under such a depth of soil and are so heavily flooded that best results are dependent upon the employment of capital. dependent upon the employment of capital. For the prospector there is here, as everywhere the mere chance of fortune but for the ordinary miner and laborer there is only miner's and laborer's wages. For the advanture, (that is the seeker of fortune in whatever ways he ways he was the seeker of fortune in whatever way he may find it) there are here only the chances to be found in every new and active community, subject, perhaps to a close or competition than elsowhere suce a new min-ing district naturally attracts men of enterprising spirit and without definite purpose, in great cumbers Business in its various lines, notel keeping and the fike, are already oversions and of lawyers, doctors, assayers, clerks, etc., there is an abundant stock s an abundant stock Profils of business are scarcely greater here then in other communities The advance upon prices in Portland, little more than covers the extraordinary freight rates and the risks in transit Business ner compinin that times are dull and this may readily be credited when it is remembered that in the whole suber district, only a single mine is in productive operation, and that upon a limited scale. Wages for miners, that is men experienced in underground work, are $3.50 per lay, and for common labor $2.50 per day. Miners are scarce, but many unskilled men are idle, not from choice but because they find nothing to do. Clerks, mechanics and others work for what they can get and offentimes must be content with less than they might earn in places where living is cheaper At the hotels, the usual rate is $2.50 per day though there are cheaper places. Saddle horses cost $2.50 per day and nearly as much more for their keep, hay being groth $50 per ton and east supwards of $1.25 per bushel. Clothing, provisions, etc., upon an average, are about twenty per cent. higher than at Fortland.

A trip to the Cour d'Alene (from Portland) and return, including a stay of ton days in the Business nien complain that times

A trip to the Court d'Alene (from Portiano) and return, including a stay of ten days in the district and the expenses of moving about to the different local districts costs about $100. From Portland to Court d'Alene City by rail costs about $100. 18 30, from Cœur d'Alene City by rait costs $18 30, from Cœur d'Alene City by steamer eixiy-rive miles and narrow gauge road to Wardner Junction filteen miles, costs $4 50, and the stage fare from Porlland to Wardner is $1. Total fares from Porlland to Wardner is $1. ner #8 51. Total fares from Portland to Wardner, $23.80, and meals and sleeping-car fare increase the bill to about $20. A Portland man who wants to get the most out of the trip should arrange to stop over a day at Spokane Palls and to return by way of Farmington and Colfar, the expense by the Farmington route being about the same as by the Northern Pacific.

At this time there is nothing to warrant in ment into the Cour d'Alene district by mere adventurers or men without means or mining skill for men of papital, even of moderate ekill for men of papital, even of moderate capital, there are many fine chances of invest ment. Many of the properties are in the hands of the poor men who discovered them, and they are willing to sell a third or half interest to raise money for development. "Ground floor" openings of this kind are numerous—better now than they ever will be again. For skillful mining workmen there is ready employment, development work in inany cases being delayed owing to the difficulty of securing experienced and practical men and practical men

But to the great army of fortune hunters without neans, mining still or definite passness surpose, I would say by all means stay away. Such people are not likely to do any good for themselves, and their presence would be an injury rather than a benefit to the district.

In summing up, it is proper to say that in these letters I have slithed to give a conservative view of what I believe to be a very great mineral district. This is not my opinion alone, it is the opinion also of every visitor, be he practice miner, scientific expect or mere observer. I miner, scientific expett or mere observer. I have set to hear in the district or from any man familiar with it a single doubt as to the wealth of these mines. With mountains of rich ore in actual view, it would be easy to grow entirus! astic and to see dimly or not at all the distinction between what may be and what is I have avoided extravapores he sticking to feeting they avoided extravagance by sticking to facts as they have come under my notice and have meant to be accurate and entirely frank.

To Porliand these mines afford a great opportunity—be has already taken the first step portunity he has already taken the first step by acquiring (through certain enterprising citizens) the most important and valuable propereriles. The next step is with regard to transportation, and that I believe is safe in the hands of the Union Pacific Resirved Company. A line connecting with the Farmington branch has already been surveyed, and I have reason to believe that it would have been built before now if the lease had not been pending. Is is neces eary for Portland's interest, however, that the coad should come quickly, and it will be an inearly for Fortiand's interest, however, that the road should come quickly, and it will be an unfortunate thing if action is postponed until next year. By the lat of next January cars ought to be running from Portland to Wardner in twen

The third and final step, like the first, calls for A. L. BANCROFT & CO, etterprise on the part of our people A market for ones must be made at Portland, and this in Sun I ranging. veives the erection of smelting works of great expacity and their endowment with sufficient criff I to buy ores wherever they may be found. I am told by min who ought to know, and who speak positively, that all the materials for smelting on a great scale—lead and eliker ores, dry ores of various grades, thuxes, fuels, etc.—can be more easily and cheaply massel at Forth v d than any other point within 2 100 miles f R o Cour d'Alene district. If this be true, then we have indeed a great advantage. But Procet sensel to receive then we have indeed a creat advantage. But Proget sound is nearly as well astunted, and I an effort will to made to establish reduction works there. I am told that Mr. Ryan, the St. Pull millionaire, is now in Thomas looking over the eluation with a view to setting up a smelter. He is noting of course in the toterest of the Korthern Profice Raulroad Companionally. wilch, regarding the Cour of Mone district a wilch, regarding the Cour of Mone district a within its field, will make a contest to hold in trofic as against the Union Pacific The Manitoba road which is striving to build up a great tops road which is striving to build up a great smelling establishment at Michigan Rapida, Dahota, expects to reach the Cour d'Alemo district within twelve months. Montana which now draws ores from Wardner, will try to hold the business. It will be seen that we must meet competition to gain this great business and it behaves us to move quackly. There is advantage always in an early start. Just as soon as there is assurance of direct transportation, the work of making a great smelting establish meet should begin at Portland. ment should begin at Portland

Our trip, as a mere excursion, was delightful We were gone eleven days, four on the rail, two on the beautiful lake Court d'Alone, and five in the suddle There were some hardships, but what are tolls when recompensed by novelly in a thousand forms when they serve only to sweeten the hours of rest. when they serve only to sweeten the nours of rest-Every hour had its special entertainment and every day its spice of adventure. We were received everywhere with country of the majestic mountain views, of the pictures que trail, embroidered everywhere with beautiful wild flowers, of a hundred humorous and pathetic incidents—these are things too commonplace for recital yet very sweet to re-member.

76--- 7: --- --- 8-10 It is an indispotable fact that railroad communication with the Eastern states has opened up a new era in the business of the Northwest, and brought us into competition with Eastern prices in all classes of goods.

It is also a POSIVIVE FACT that prote vice of Home Manufacture is the only true me he d of building up and enriching this great Northwestern country.

KEEP TOPR MONEY AT HOME Is my motto, and to give the public a chance to do so I have made arrangements at my Labora-tory to furnish ALL GRADES OF FIREWORKS suitable for both land and water exhibitions.

New York Sizes cold at New York Prices.
Any class of Fireworks firmished as low as can behind a uny catalogue price in the United State. I have been twenty-five years build ug fireworks. I have given universal satisfaction and proved the SUPERIORITY (F A.Y WORKS) had competitive tests. All my Fireworks are gramminged at the cold tests.

We are offering a great a water fireworks, especially adapted for BOATING and YACHTING PARTIES; beautiful and surpressip in effect perfectly harmless. No burg more interesting or amusing can be imagined than the effect upon the water of these DOLPHINS, WATER WITCHE, e.c. etc.

- If we know the cares and crosses
- If we know that clouds above us, Held by gentle blessings there, Would we turn away all trimbling. In our blind and weak despair? Would we shrink from little Shade Lying on the dewy grass, While 'its only birds of Eden, Just to mercy flying past?
- If we knew the silent story
 Onlywing through the heart of pain
- Let us teach within our bosoms
 for the key to other lives,
 And with love to error nature,
 Cherish good that still survives;
 So that when our disnoded spirits
 Soar to realms of light again.
 We may say. "Dear Father, judge us
 As we judge our fellow-men."

BY DAVID LOWBY, AUTHOR OF "ROPES OF FIRE," "THE DEVIL'S PITCHER," DITC.

Two little barefooted beys wer: playing near the brow of a hill.

The sun's rays had dried the muc where they were making pies. They were apprehensive lest the source of amusement should fail them, when suddenly the mere inventive of the two bethought him of a device that would ensure them more water and mud. He measured the ground with his eye, and observing it dipped toward the side of the road verging on the cliff, he called his playmate to his aid, and together they made a small hole by thrusting aticks in the ground, lift-ing the earth thus loosened with their hands. Then, the arriver are the state of the con-Then the embryo engineer laid a stick on the side of the road near the cliff, and placng small stones against it, speedily made a ing small stones against it, speedily shade a wall for the reservoir thus constructed.

A tiny rill the traveler would scarcely note crossing the road at this point, gave the youngsters perhaps a gallon or two of water in the next half hour. They made their pies, dog's heads, duck's feet, every design that struck their fance, until a rumble of distant thunder warned them a storm was approaching. A few large drops of rain bastened their movements. They ran home trightened as the shafes of ilightning played across the heavens, and when the beits seemed to strike the cartin near them, they rushed into the house breathless. they rushed into the house breathless th terror. The storm raged an hour. The heavens opened and swept grain ready for the reuper's hand list; rivulets became forrents, torrents were swollen to the dimensions of creeks. The slopes above the road on the bill-top were swept by the downpour. Everything that was loose, and could float. drifted straight down to the road. The trilling barrier constructed by a child's hands arrested a bit of wood, and stalks of grain, which in turn checked others, forming a matting holding the sand that was pressed against it until what with d against it, until, what with nits of pressed against it, until, what with oits of wood, tuits of grass, grain-stalks and shrubs torn up by the root, a considerable body of water was held in the hollow of the road, stretching across it, and up into the unfenced timber land.

The puddle on the readside grew with amezing rapidity to the proportions of a pend; then the body of water pressing for deliverance gathered such tromendous force that in the twinkling of an ope it swept the barrier away, and the torrent, leaping down the hill, fore the earth open in a seam; tore recks up, and thung them down to the base of the clift. The great gap made in the readside invited the flow of water that otherwise would have spread over the hill-side. The hill was guttered—the gutter deepened, widened as the storm raged, and deepened, widened as the storm raged, and hundreds of tons of earth and rock were deepened, widened as the storm raged, and hundreds of tons of earth and rock; ware carried away in a few mioutes. A large rock on the crest of the cliff slid a few feet, then flew with tremendous force down the guily made by the little boy's dam; crashing against another rock, it was rent asunder; one piece bounded down to the base of the bill, and cross an open field, the other half, after encountering numerous obstacles, fell on the malway track at the base of the lint.

A stunted walnut tree, small locusts and sumach grew there. There was a deep cut in the base of the hill a hundred yards above the clamp of lections and sumachs. The railroad entered

The railroad curred in here in lines a most uniform in sweep toward the fallen rock.

Jutting out, built seemingly in the river, was the watchman or track walker's box, a mile below the cut. Precisely at the instant the rock fell on the track, Dan Dolán emerged from his box and stood irresolutely locking up and down the road. Half-his "walk" lay above him, the other was below him. He had run down through the curve in the pelting rain, derenched to the skin him. He had run down through the curve in the pelting rain, derenched to the skin. He realized the danger at that point was ten fold greater than at any other portion of his walk. But the rules were imperative; they left him no discretion. Only for one-half minute he felt like yielding to his instinct—like exercising the judgment he would have displayed had the road been his own, and bimself solely responsible for the lives entrusted to the management. Then he trotted briskly down the road.

As the watchman disappeared around the point, a faint puff of vapor shot up from the base of the hill far above the ourse through the cut. There was a little dloud of so oke also. Smoke and vapor milited away; reappeared again and again. The smoke and vapor up to leave the le smoke and vapor issued from the locomotive attached to the fastest train on the great ' railroad.

The train was composed of one baggage car, one express and one mail car, four plain coaches and drawing-room car. In the last mentioned a beautiful child further than the control of the the first mentioned a beautiful child fur-nished much amusement to a lady and three gentlemen. One of these was a manu-facturer, one was identified with commer-cial enterprises that were the talk of the country and the third was a great railway magnate. lady was very close—it—held three generations.

The gentlemen talked in a desultory way of the "surplus" revenue, the "surplus" wheat, "surplus" silver as thoughthey were as familiar things in their lives as their plippers. They talked of long and short halls, tolls, tariff, trade prospects and trade disturbances in a manner indicating indifference so far as they were each and all independent. They were each and all independent. They wailed when, comparing actes, they from they were all shareholders in the great "J. & J." rathroad.

Miles below them Dan Polan, trotting along the track, was meditating upon a matter that had puzzled his brain a month or more. The problem was one no man would essay with airy indifference. The thing that bothered Dan was a shortnee. He was termed a night-watenara, but owing to the insality of the management of the great "J. & J." to change the solar system, a considerable portion of Dan's words, Dan's service of fourteen hours began in the afternoon, for which ne was paid the sum of one dodar. As the menths had not been interfered with by what the press termed "the saper's system" includent as there, by which the employes assured each other's lives and limbs; the great "J. & J." is followed that Dan carned $30 a month, but he did not receive that. The "superb system" includent as there, by which the employes assured each other's lives and limbs; the great "J. & J." stood over benevolently on pay day, and deducted seventy-five cents from his $30. problem of living on less than a dollar a day, he glanced up the road and his knees trembled.

Just opposite the clump of sumachs, he bebeld the stack of a locomotive bound high in the air, then fall back. Horror, unditerable horror parched Dan's throat. He ran like the wind in the hope that he might help to save human lives. When he arrived at the scene of the dieseter the flames were leaping over the forward coach, the tongues of fire were enveloping others, white men and others who escaped the wreck stood wringing their hands; others exerted almost superhuman strength in futile endeavors to succer fellow passengers. It was the dying groans of these that maddened those who realized they were powerless to save them; that made them tear at the woodwork with bleeding hands in the frenzy of the moment. In ten minutes—less time, heaps of ashes, charred bits of wood and twisted grayish-white iron was all that was left of a railway train.

Numbers of the clizens viewed the hody of the dead Chinaman, where it was left lying in the original position in which it fell for ever an hour. There were three bullet holes in the body, one close to the right breast, which evidently passed through the lungs, as blood was discharged from the mouth and nostrils. The other two were in the left side, over the heart; either of the three wounds would have proven faist. A large dirk knife was found fring partly concealed by the blome of the dead Chinaman; there was the determine.

The chooting is said to have been caused by trouble-over Ti-Ti, Billy's wife. She had not been living with thim for some time, and his jealoury was aroused by stories told fine coarearing the dead Chinaman, whe, he (Eilly) chaimed, was instrumental in causing the separation. This is denied by athers, who claim that the wan killed was entirely innocent.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

A dispatch from Harris station, Benton country, to the Covallis Gazette says:

Wednesday as Hev. Isaac Miller, of Blodgett's valley, was driving through one of his fields near Harris station, on the Oregon Pacific, his team became frightened and run away with blim. Near Bain's place the team crossed the Oregon Pacific ruck and Mr. Miller was thrown from the wagon and terribly brulsed and stunned. He recovered consciousness sufficiently to cruwl a few hundred yards down the track, when he fainted away on a long bridge. Here he was found a short time after in an insensible condition by Mr. Soyder, the track-walker, and was carried off the bridge to a place of easiety a few minutes before a train came around a curve and crossed the bridge. He was taken home, where he now lies in a precarous condition from the effects of his injuries. He is overfolgen, the track-walker and the neck of time he probably would have been run over and killed by the train. The team was caught without any very great damage being done to it.

MANTON MURDER CASE.

MANTON MURDER CASE.

MANTON MURDER CASE.

Deer Lodge New Northwest.

Dennis Manton was indicade at the present term of court for the murder of his wife, Susan E. Manton, on or about the 21 day of Marchinat, by allowing her to be exposed to the cold and inclemency of the weather without proper clothing or shelter, as marrated in this paper at the time. Manton and bis wife were going home, westward, on the railroad track, from Drummond. Both had been drinking, and when within a few hundred pards of home she could go no further. Manton laid her on the ice unsider a railroad bridge, put his oast under her and some blankets over her, and went home to bud. At the time there was a heavy snow on the ground. Next morning she was hauled homa with a rope fiel around her body, after which she shortly died. This is a brian statement of the facts, and the balance of them can be inferred from the vendlet of the jusy, which was that Dennis Manton was roully of nurder in the second degree, folicy his punishment at twenty years in the territorial prison.

ATTACKED BY A DEER

ATTACKED BY A DEER.

Toledo, W. T., Pilot.

Quite a remarkable incident transpired on Cowiliz Prairie a few days ago. Mr. H. G. Morrow was driving along the road when he espled three deer, two in the road and one in his rro patch. Not wishing to see his crop distributed to scare the deer out of the tree, when it made at him and he was obliged to shoot it; the other two deer sessing their companion in transfe came forward to help, which so frightened Morrow that he called to his neighbor, Mr. J. H. Adams, for assistance, but before the latter arrived the gran was somehow updn discharged and the other two deer were instantly killed. This must indeed be a wonderful country where the thind fawn essays to attack travelers on the highway.

PLENTY OF "VARMINTS,"

UNIQUE FLORAL START.—A short time since here was a sort of deep, stagmant slough back i the Northern Pecific Sepot on North Front of the Northern Prefice Gegot to North Front street in which were growing a lot of cat-tail 1896 and other equatic plants. With the rise of the water the whole bottom of this slough hole has come apand it now lanks like a sort of garden. Finating on the top of the water are little islands bearing huge clumps of lags—a small willow tree, tuffs of rank grass, harge packness of some kind of a creeping vine with prefix, giosay green leves, and others of a plant with delicate little blue flowers and in an old hox floating among the rubbish can be seen the arrow-shaud learnes of the wapato. The surface of the water between the floating islands is covered with a curious little plant which floats on the surface of diags a single thread-like root. The surface of diags a single thread-like root, the bend lacks as if one could walk across it, but if anyone should aftenut it he would find himself over his lead in the littliest lobidly imaginable.

For instance, while standing for half an hour last evening with his auricular glood to the felephone, vanily trying to get to speak to a gentleman up town, he heard Judge Whalley conversing with some minion of the police office about bis dog, the successor of the immortal key Jin, which had broken his collar and was off in his own responsibility. Mr. Whilley was requesting the prayerful attention of policement and poundmasters to the collarless state of his wandering canno and hoping that he might not have bis morals endangered by being placed in the pound to associate with mongred, whelp and pupily dogs and curs of low degree. It is evident there are some telephone wires crossed.

After a free interchange of views, and a thorough canyass of men to handle the blocks and get thom to the derrick, fand then there were about as many men at work above placing them in their proper position. The roof sheeting on the roundhouse is ready for the slate, which is stacked on the grounds ready for use. The slate is in thin shreis, about ten inches in width by sixteen in length. It looks as it the task of placing these plates ever the vast spaces of roofing on all the unifolding would be an endless one ret this work. the prospects, it was ununimously decided to increase the capital stock to $330,000. One object is to have the present reduction works in East Portland start up as soon as possible. The building would be an endless one, yet this work will seem be done. All the heavy trusses for roofing are in position on all the buildings ex-cept at the east end of the machine shops. But company has thought it indicious to wait until Courd'Alene ore can be worked rather than com-u.coce on ore brought from the east, as the forer could be emsited at much more profit. It little brick remains to be done. It takes considis proposed to have the present small works in operation during in time the new and large smelling establishment is in process of construction. No time has been definitely determined upon when actual operations will be connected on the new reduction works, but the company are in carnest, and lottend to have just as little delay as possible. With the lucrease of capital stock there seems now no doubt that the board of directors will past the work for ward to an early completion.

If there are of a following states and silver and and in that district in any great quantities, the proposition becomes amost an axion, and that of proposition becomes amost an axion, and that to Purllend. To accomplish this two biness are no cessary: to create a market here for all, or the greater part of the otes, and to create such the greater part of the otes, and to create such the greater part of the otes, and to create such the greater part of the otes, and to create such industry and profitable mechanism that the extensive and profitable mechanism traffic that invariably goes with the trade in mine ordeness will come to Portland to remain. The two floings necessary, therefore, to secure this trade to the city, not the direct railroad connection in Farmington and Cour d'Alone and a smelling works of large raracety. Of the two the latter is of the more consequence, because without the crothetrade for reduction, and without the crothetrade will not come to Portland for reduction, and without the crothetrade will not come. The trade involved the crothetrade will not come. The trade involved the crothetrade will not come. The trade involved to dimensions enfolcient to afford a market for a very large supply or ore. The supply actually in eight in the court of Alone is so far beyond the anticipations of a year ago that these works are found to ine entirely landequate, and the management have wisely decided upon a great increase in the capital stock of the curporation, with a view to the erection of works on a ecale (ag al to the requirements of the case.

SOME PECULIAR CLAIMS.

CHEDITORS OF THE POBILAND GENERAL HOS-PITAL SCORE A POINT IN COURT. On the 17th day of August, 1886, an assignment was made by the Portland General Hospital for the benefit of their creditors, to John D. Denient. The assets were placed at 28891 81 and the liabilities at $10,484 63. The report of the assignee afterward filed increased the amount of the liabilities to $10,979 89, and the appraised valuation of the property was $1995. Subsequently a sale of the baths, furniture and other chattels of the hospital was made, several thousand dellars being realized.

After the sale F. S. Chadbourne & Co., Brigham & Weeks and Mason, Elirman & Co., creditors of the Portland General Hospital, filed ob-ham & Weeke and Mason, Ehrman & Co., creditors of the Porland General Hospital, flied objections to the Calim of J. R. McDonald for 86000, S. Carman for $393-15, and Wm. Gardter & Co. for $683-80. The objectors claim that when the corporation was organized McDonald held one share of the stock and Carman one, and that Thomas Wood Leid the insports of the stock, some 4930 starrer, that the shares were of the value of $500 each; that Wood really held this stock in trust for McDonald, Carman and others, and that McDonald actually held 1250 shares of the stock. The claim of McDonald to $5000 appears to be for money alleged to have been advanced to the Portland General Hospital. The objectors dery that McDonald loaned this money and further contend that instead of the Portland General Hospital Carmanshib to him for $6000, be, as the holder of 1256 shares of the stock, is responsible to the creditors of the bospital in the amount of the pay value of his stock, $12,500. Carmanshe claim is contested on like grounds. As to Gardner's claim of $600 db, the of lectors allege that Gardner accepted fifty chares of the Inspital stock, of the value of $500 for part payment of his claim, and therefore there is now only $183.00 due thin.

By means of cords and a very sim-ple tackie the barness is enapended just high enough from the floor to allow the burses to pass under without touching. When the alarm pass under without touching. When the slarm is struck the horses instantly spring from their stalls, and running out, range themselves on each side of the engine tongue. As each hamers swings above the animals, it is builted cown, fails in proper position over the horse, and, in a trice, the collars are drawn around the neck and closed with an iron catch. An instant later the lines are snapped into the bridge and all is in readiness. Meantimes the numble driver has leaped into his seat and grasped the "ribbons," A guick, charp pail ou the times and the harness is free from the tackle by which they are suspended, while the cords and iron clamps fly up to the colling by means of weights stached to each side of the room. Wide open the big doms are swung and away the horses dash; and all accomplished inside of ten or fitteen seconds.

Besides the fact, that awinging humous used in connection with the fire department greatly expective matters; the arrangement has another draided advantage. It obtains the necessity of the poor horses standing day had night with the beary harness on their backs, which, like a non-stant dripping, becomes quite a wavrisome bur-den even to equipment and audurance.

The engineer was unable to explain how be had let the water get so low. He, however, praceeded to graw the fire as soon as possible, and before the belief was cool to week to week to put in a new plag.

A raitroad company generally takes no excuse for an accident of this kind, and the originaer of course expected his dismissed or a severe panishment by suspension. The energy and said he displayed in repariting the damage showed him to be a good engineer, and all on the train were heartly corry for his misfortune, although it night have involved sorrous consequences for them. He got his train into Pasco four hours behind time, which was the best ho could de under the circumstances.
